ITEMS OF ALL SORTS.

—One of the most appropriate marriages that we have lately seen mentioned is that of Miss Mary Kirk, of Corinth, Miss., to Mr. J. Buskirk.

—Ladies now ornament their note paper with small photographs of themselves—an excellent idea if they are pretty, and we are sure they are.

—The Hopkinsville (Ky.) Conservative says: Some of our farmer friends tell us that the recent rains have greatly injured the tobacco crop in this section of the country.

—A writer in the St. Louis Democrat thinks that pews in the fashionable churches ought to rest on pivots, so that the occupants could see those coming in without straining their necks.

—A barbarous writer says that the "Grecian benders" might be properly termed animated parentheses, not only on account of the shape they affect, but because they include what is "not necessary either to sense or construction."

—When a Hindoo priest baptizes a child he addresses it as follows: "Little baby, thou didst enter the world weeping, while all around thee smiled; contrive so to live that thou mayst depart in smiles, while all around thee weep."

—It is said that Mr. Emerson considers the writing of twenty lines, completely finished and creditable to himself, a fair day's work. Some have thought that to read and understand twenty lines of his writings was a sufficient day's work for his readers.

—Two gentlemen were scrutinizing a signboard on which was written "Ed. Orpheus, plumber and gas fitter." One of them suggested the inappropriateness of the business for such a name. "On the contrary," said the other, "it seems very appropriate that he should go piping about."

—At Granby, Mass., in the yard at the residence formerly owned by the late Rev. Elijah Gridley, there is a fine elm tree of a century's growth. Upon the side of this tree, twelve feet from the ground, is a currant bush rooted in the bark which has thrived and produced its annual crop for years.

—Louis Napoleon is said to be mindful of the interests of his old friends. One of these, a bankrupt in 1850, has by the Emperor's aid amassed $20,000,000, while many others are said to have been placed on the track of large fortunes by his advice and assistance.

—S. W. Bloom, of Bromstown, Ind., has made from common cornstalks a syrup superior in flavor to sorghum, though there was a sorghum flavor discernable. The yield is nearly equal, per acre, to that of sorghum, and does not interfere with the production of green corn for market, from the same stalk.

—A few days since, while some persons were walking upon the side of the bluffs in the rear of La Crosse, a singular subterraneous sound was heard, which, proved, upon investigation, to proceed from a large underground stream of pure water running only three feet below the surface of the rocks. The stream is said to be ample for the supply of the city.

—The Cincinnati Commoner says that near the locality of a great battle between the Romans and Caledonians, "is a small village called 'the Blair,'" a word in the old language signifying locus pugnæ—the place where a battle was fought. "Literally, this translation may be correct, but according to the present applicative sense, 'the Blair' is the ground where the battle is to be fought."

—Dr. W. Leigh Burton, of Richmond, Va., has been awarded a patent at Washington for an improved electro heating apparatus, invented by him. The object is to afford a safe, reliable, and economical method of heating railway passenger cars by electrical currents, radiated from metallic plates. The principle can also be applied to heating residences, public buildings, and, properly managed, we can see a comfortable pile in it for the Doctor.

—A sensation was created among the uptown people of New York by the discovery of the perfect remains of a human foot and leg embedded in some granite, for the quarrymen are blasting at the which Tenth avenue and Forty-second corner of the granite is pale color and the street. The are perfectly black. The human remains philosophers and the questions for the these the replies ethnologists now are, and was this of some primeval man, primeval man black?

—The Report of the Grand Secretary, read at the recent meeting of the Grand Lodge at Baltimore, furnishes the following statistics: Number of Lodges in the United States and British North America, 3142; Grand Lodges, 41; Grand Encampments, 31; members, 243,798. Money expended in relieving the brethren and their widowed families, in educating orphans and burying the dead, $683,090. Annual receipts, $2,063,145. This Order has been established on a permanent basis in Australia, there being in that country 4000 members affiliated with the organization in the United States.

—The corner stone of Whitfield's Tabernacle was recently laid with appropriate ceremonies in London. This building is about to be erected on the site of the old chapel raised in 1740 by Rev. George Whitfield, and long the scene of his ministerial labors in Tabernacle Row, Finsbury, a borough of London. The new edifice will afford seats for one thousand persons, and will cost about $35,000 in gold. The change in the condition of the Dissenters in England since Whitfield's time is very remarkable, for when he built his tabernacle in the open fields of Finsbury there were only three clergymen of his way of thinking in London, and their chapels were hidden in obscure courts.

—During the first half of this century 3240 shocks of earthquakes were noticed, or about one every week. In Europe, during the last ten years, there have been 320 earthquakes, or one every nine days. At the commencement of the fifteenth century only 740 of these shocks had found a place in history. During the next 300 years 2804 earthquakes are recorded, or almost four times as many as during all the succeeding ages. From these facts it has been inferred that, whatever may be the origin of these upheavings of the crust of the earth, the phenomena are greatly increasing in number and their causes in violence. This is cheering and reassuring to us poor mortals.

An Incident of the Struggle in Paris in June, 1848.

George Sand, who seems to have collected quite a number of interesting incidents connected with the terrible June days of 1848, relates the following anecdote: In the middle of the terrible struggle a member of the National guard, who had fought the insurgents for twenty-four hours, came home, where his return had not yet been expected. His wife, doubtless frightened by the noise and tumult of the insurrection, had placed herself under the protection of one of the intimate friends of the house, who protected her so well that her husband, upon entering his sitting room, took a couple of swords and said to the protector, "Monsieur, the street is quiet now; we shall not be disturbed. Come! The lanterns will give us just light enough for what we have to do." They went down stairs and into the street, where they fought a duel. The injured husband succeeded in running his sword through the breast of the friend who had so generously protected his wife. He then went home. Meanwhile a patrol came along, found the wounded protector, and carried him to one of the ambulances, where he soon awoke to consciousness, his wound not being a mortal one. Next morning the insurrection was quelled. Gen. Cavaignac visited the ambulances, found there the wounded protector, believed, of course, that he had been wounded in the service of the country,—which the protector took good care not to deny,—congratulated him on his gallantry, and decorated him with the cross of the Legion of Honor.

WHAT WE CAN DO.

Only Give the South Half a Chance.

From the Richmond, (Va.) Dispatch, Sept. 22.]

The arousing of the public attention to the advantages of the grape culture and the manufacture of wine in this country, is highly gratifying to reflecting and practical men. In both a pecuniary and moral sense, the entering upon these new means of occupation promises the most salutary blessings. The grape crop is an addition to the variety of crops, and increases the security of the laborer from the waywardness of seasons. The introduction of wine as a beverage among our people will promote temperance and health by diminishing the consumption of the detestable distilled liquors of these times, which debauch the intellect and destroy the physical power of men. It may be that this is one national blessing wrought, in a great degree, out of a national evil, thus illustrating the principle of compensation which, like a golden thread, runs through the laws of Providence. Congress seized upon distilled spirits as a subject of taxation susceptible of unlimited assessment, and placed upon them such a tax as curtailed their consumption and drove men to seek for other stimulants that are cheaper. This suggests the making of wine to meet a new demand; and has given to the cultivation of the grape the greatest incentive yet afforded to it on this continent.

From the Richmond (Va.) Whig, September 22.]

Every man who developes and works a new interest in the South is a public benefactor. It always affords us pleasure to encourage such enterprises. In this spirit we take the liberty of referring to Maj. W. B. Richards, jr., of Alexandria, whose energies, always actively employed, are now directed to two useful enterprises. He is running an asbestos mine on the line of the Danville Railroad, and a marble quarry in the lower valley of Virginia. We understand that his operations are proving very profitable. He is also preparing to open and develop a large deposit of plumbago. What is it that Virginia does not produce? Truly, she seems to have within her soil almost every conceivable element of wealth. The praise bestowed by a distinguished writer upon the man who makes two blades of grass to grow where only one grew before, is due alike to those enterprising men who uncover the unhidden treasures of the earth, throw them into commercial channels, and make them contribute to the welfare of mankind. All that such enterprises require to make them successful and profitable is a working capital. The misfortune of our people is, that while they own valuable mineral lands, they are without the capital to develop and utilize them. Foreign and Northern capital could not be more safely or profitably invested than in their development.

From the Richmond (Va.,) Dispatch, 22d.]

Paper twine has become an important article of trade within the past few years, taking the place, to a great extent, of cotton and hemp twine. Mr. J. B. Wortendyke, the original inventor of machinery for the manufacture of paper twine, and who is extensively engaged in the business at Godwinsville, N. J., has leased the Manchester paper mill, formerly owned by Robinson and Fairbanks, and will run it for the exclusive purpose of making paper for his twine factory. The mill will turn out 2000 pounds per day. We learn that Mr. W. contemplates removing his factory to Manchester.

From the Macon (Ga.) Journal and Messenger September 14].

The Macon cotton factory will commence running on full time this morning. It is now working three hundred and fifty hands and consumes twelve thousand dollars' worth of raw cotton per month. A joke is told upon one of our merchants, who bought in New York goods made by this factory. They were sold to him as superior to anything made in the South, but when he got them here he found out his mistake, and also that he could buy them here a cent cheaper.

From the Dahlonega, (Ga.,) Mountain Signal.]

Col. R. H. Moore, assisted by J. L. and D. T. Harris, are now constructing a new stamp mill, about a quarter of a mile east of Wimpy's Flouring Mill, on the shoals leading to said mill. This mill is to crush the ore taken from the vein on the Cassady lot, just outside of the town limits, north, known as the muster ground. Since Col. Moore has owned this property, he has expended a considerable amount in testing, which has partly exposed one of the largest and best paying veins in the county. He has now a vast amount of quartz ready for the mill, which will pay from six to ten dollars per ton, and further developments where he obtained upwards of three has led to the discovery weights to the one pan full.

From the Atlanta, (Ga.,) Constitution, Sept. 5.]

Five hundred and seventeen hands are employed in the Augusta, Ga., Factory, most of whom were "play woods" people, who find their condition infinitely bettered by the occupation of comfortable houses rent free, their children educated at the expense of the company, and each member of the family capable of working in the mill earning from sixty cents to one dollar per day. There is morality in figures when it produces such results.

Now for an extract from the report:

|---|---|
| The gross earnings for the past six months have been | $135,512 00 |
| Interest received | 3,920 20 |
| Total | $139,432 20 |
| From which is deducted expense account | $ 8,731 84 |
| Repairs account | 3,475 11 |
| Taxes Paid | 19,991 41— $31,896 16 |
| Leaving as net profit | $107,534 14 |

From which two dividends of 5 per cent. each, amounting to $50,000, have been paid, enabling us to carry to the credit of profit and loss account $47,534 14, making the amount now to the credit of that account, $224,798 22. The property was purchased of the city for $140,000, on ten years' credit, with interest at seven per cent. payable semi-annually, and one tenth of the principal annually, the purchasers paying in as commercial capital $60,000. This amount, in consequence of the dilapidated condition of the property, was almost entirely expended in the first two years in repairs rendered necessary by the then condition of the property. We have, since the purchase, paid for the entire property without calling on the stockholders for another dollar; added largely to the property by purchase and building, bought about $100,000 worth of new machinery, increased the capital to $600,000, by the addition of a portion of the surplus; paid dividends regularly, and have now a property worth the par value ($600,000) in gold.

Australian Beef and Mutton.

From the Philadelphia Ledger.]

Australian beef and mutton are now being introduced into England in large quantities. Formerly the sheep and cattle of Australia exceeded by several millions the actual wants of the colonists, who, in order to dispose of their flocks profitably, were obliged to boil down the carcasses for the tallow, which, with the skins and the wool, formed the principal articles of export. The government of the Colony of Queensland, not long ago, offered a handsome reward to the person who should succeed in shipping to England a given quantity of Australian meat. Numerous attempts have been made to carry out this project, but the failures have been very large in number. Recently, however, there has been received in England 2000 whole sheep, 2500 legs of mutton and ten tons of beef, shipped from Australia. The process of preparation of this cargo is very simple. The bones are cut out of the carcass, which is then steeped in pickle, wrapped up in clean white cloths, and packed closely in barrels with the interstices filled up with seeds or melted fat, for the purpose of excluding the air. Another experimenter had fitted up a ship with the necessary apparatus for receiving a cargo of frozen meat, which is expected to arrive in England about December.

TENNESSEE.

Its Real Condition as Stated by a Northern Man.

We find in the Columbus (Ohio) Statesman the full report of a speech delivered by Col. Llewellyn Baber, of that city, at Midway, Ohio, on the 15th ult. Col. Baber has heretofore been an active Republican, being a Lincoln elector in the Columbus district in 1860, and a Union soldier from the beginning to the ending of the war. He now supports the Democratic Presidential ticket. In the course of the speech before us, we find the following, which will enable the reader to form a reliable and accurate idea of the real condition of affairs in Tennessee:

Only a few days ago I received a letter from a gentleman near Gallatin, Tenn., who has all along acted with the Radicals, and went with the Brownlow party to establish negro suffrage in that State; he is a farmer and no politician, but uses the following language:

"I want you to give me your candid opinion as to the result. In case of the continuance of the present order of things, I want no more property here; but if things are changed, I prefer it here at present prices to anywhere I know of. You know enough of me to know that I am, and was radically Union—nature, education, instinct and everything else combined to make me so, but it is strange even beyond my comprehension to conceive, how it is that any decent man, boasting of an American civilization, can contemplate the present political condition of our State without emotions of horror.

"The future! oh, the future! Would that I had a vision to discern its reality for the next six months. It is not overdrawn when I say to you that the danger here is imminent. Newspapers give no account of the real condition. The people pray and beg our State rulers to let us alone; we pledge peace, obedience to all laws, no matter how oppressive; still the negroes are being armed; they are harangued by incendiary speakers; the Brownlow party are about to arm, as a State Guard, two regiments in each Congressional District, upon various pretexts, all of which are false.

"On the other hand, the people, seeing the danger and knowing the animus which governs the State, are organized, are armed and will resist; these men are not outlaws, they are not rebels, but are white men determined to protect their wives and daughters from outrage, themselves from being made slaves to negro masters."

When such a cry comes up from one who, proved by ill treatment, received during the war from rebels, plunged with his party, without regard to consequences, into extreme measures, it is time for reflecting men to pause, before they elect as President Gen. Grant, on the Chicago platform, to guarantee by the sword of the nation the continuance of this horrible condition of affairs at the South.

NOVEL CLOCK.

The Kennedy-Electric Patent.

A novel clock, called the "Kennedy Electric Clock," was exhibited the other day in New York to a number of Journalists and scientific men. The Sun pronounces it an astonishing machine. So simple a clock never was invented before. Its mechanism consists solely of a pendulum, holding two magnets, and one wheel moving the hands on the dial face. Springs, weights, and winding up are dispensed with altogether. The pendulum is kept in movement by two wires connected with the earth. One is furnished with a piece of zinc where it reaches the ground; the other passes through a piece of carbon. One of these wires supplies a current of positive, the other of negative electricity. Each is connected with a coil opposite to the magnets fixed on the pendulum on each side. The electricity of these magnets is of the same character as that supplied from the earth and concentrated in the coil at its side of the pendulum. Accordingly, when it swings up to that coil it is repelled, and made to swing back toward the other side, where it is similarly repelled. An ingenious little arrangement cuts off the electricity from each coil as soon as it has performed its office of repulsion, and lets it on again as soon as the repulsive force is once more needed. The movement of the pendulum is regulated by screws, according to the intensity of the electric currents from the earth. The same pair of wires may be employed to move a number of clocks at great distances apart, making them keep time with absolute equality. For railroad purposes this will be of immense utility. The clock can also be kept going by a stationary battery, if from any circumstance it should become difficult to connect the wires with the earth.

Anglicanism.

From the New York Herald.]

It will be remembered that at the Wesleyan Conference held recently in England, the opinion was expressed that the Church of England is gradually ceasing to be a Protestant Church. If the Rev. Mr. Jackson and his friends are in the habit of reading the Church papers, their convictions on this subject are likely to be strengthened. The accounts of a church celebration at Brighton, and of another at All Saints' Church, Lambeth, would have seemed in their proper place in the Tablet; but they were not so startling as the description given in the Church News of a young lady taking the veil at Feltham nunnery. The postulant was dressed as a bride, and the father superior cut off her hair, having a towel spread over his knees to receive it. "While the novice's hymn, 'Farewell, thou world of sorrow,' was being sung by the sisters, her long black hair was all cut off, the black long tresses falling on the ground around her." Her dress was changed and she put on the Benedictine habit. She walked to the altar steps holding her lighted taper, and "while she was receiving the Sacrament the choir curtain fell, and neither she nor the other sisters were seen any more." The Feltham nuns, it appears, lead a life of strict seclusion, never going out and only seeing visitors through a grating. They recite the Benedictine office and observe the Benedictine rules. And all this takes place under the superintendence of persons within the communion of the Church of England. The account concludes with the hope that the Pope will make the approaching council at Rome "indeed Ecumenical by inviting the Anglican and Eastern Bishops to attend."

French Legitimists.

The exclusiveness of the Legitimist circles in Paris is something wounderful. A family belonging to them is at once sent to coventry if any of its members accept invitations to court balls or soirees at the houses of Bonapartists. The only papers read by the Legitimists are the Gazette de France, the Monde, and the Union. When speaking of the Emperor and Empress, they never call them "L'Empereur" and L'Imperatrice," but "M. Bonaparte" and "cette dame" Their children are taught to look upon the Emperor as a miserable usurper, who robs the good King Henry the Fifth of his legitimate rights, and they call the present regime "the revolution" and the intervenum." They patronize only such tradesmen as profess Legitimist principles, and contribute liberally to Legitimist charities. Few of these families are even willing to make concessions to the Orleanists, but they are willing to join hands even with the Red Republicans in order to overthrow "M. Bonaparte." Rochefort picked up most of the spicy stories about the leading members of the court at Legitimist salons. The Emperor formerly tried very hard to conciliate these Legitimists, but for several years past, he has perceived that it was all in vain. He pretends to laugh at them now, and considers them by far less dangerous than the less exclusive and seemingly more complaisant Orleanists.

RELIGIOUS PROGRESS.

What the Various Christian Bodies Are Doing.

On the island of Conanicut, off the coast of Rhode Island, a small Baptist church of seven members was organized a year and a-half ago. Now it has a membership of over forty, and the society has lately finished a house of worship near the center of the island, which has just been dedicated. The building will accommodate 200 worshippers.

In Newark, N. J., the Fairmount church has just completed an edifice modeled after the sanctuary of the First Baptist society of that city, but inferior in size. The building was dedicated on the 9th ult.

Baptist houses of worship have also been dedicated at Warwick, N. Y., Bellevue, Mich., and Knoxville and Davis Creek, Iowa.

The Presbyterian church of Metropolis, Ill., during the last two years, has increased its membership from nineteen to thirty-one. Without aid from abroad they have just built and paid for a house of worship, which was duly dedicated on the 6th ult.

At Milton, Fla., a small Presbyterian church has been erected with the aid of friends from Mobile and others. The society has very recently organized.

In Hayes Valley, Cal., in August, a small house of worship, began by the Presbyterian society of that region last April and finished, was dedicated.

On Easter Monday last the cornerstone of the Bethlehem (German Lutheran) church in Richmond, Va., belonging to the Missouri Synod, was laid with imposing ceremonies. Since then the edifice has been completed and was recently consecrated. "It is time," says the Lutheran, "that an English Lutheran church should also be started in Richmond, and we are happy to announce that one is about to be undertaken under the ministry of Rev. Mr. Neiffer, a member of the Synod of Pennsylvania, and late of our seminary in Philadelphia."

St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church at New Baltimore, Ohio, was solemnly dedicated last month.

The formal dedication of the Reformed Church in Utica took place on the 8th ult. Rev. Dr. Vermilye, of the Collegiate Church in this city, preached an appropriate discourse, and the pastor, Rev. A. G. Vermilye, D.D., offered the prayer of dedication. The new edifice has cost about $50,000.

A Reformed house of worship, built at Norris, Ill., through the benevolence of a lady of Philadelphia, was lately dedicated to the worship of God.

A Methodist house of worship was dedicated last month in West Milton, Wis.

Mr. Henry Burden, proprietor of the extensive iron works near Troy, N. Y., is erecting a fine church building for the use of a Presbyterian congregation at that place. The church, which will cost over $50,000, is to be built, finished and furnished throughout at Mr. Burden's expense, and when all is completed the whole property will be transferred to the trustees of the church.

Life Insurance Decision.

A decision highly interesting to life insurance circles, has just been made in California. A suit was brought against one John McCulloch, of Yuba City, to recover losses by a defaulter for whom McCulloch stood surety. Judgment was obtained, but the defendant's visible property did not answer the requirements of the judgment. He held back a paid up endowment policy of life insurance to the amount of $3000, and refused to surrender it for execution. For this refusal the Judge ordered McCulloch to be committed for contempt of court. McCulloch's counsel applied for and obtained from a Judge of the Supreme Court, a writ of habeas corpus upon the ground that by a special act of the State Legislature life insurance policies are exempt from execution for debt. The question is to be further argued before the Supreme Court. Should the decision of the Inferior Court be sustained, it will cause no slight flutter among the life insurance agents, since the argument for taking paid up endowment policies is largely based on the supposition that all life insurance policies are exempt from execution for debt.

THE NEWS.

The loss at Gretna, La., by the incendiary fire which burned two squares of the town, will reach fully $25,000. Several negroes have been arrested as among the gang who fired and afterwards refused to assist in the suppression of the flames.

In reference to the trial of Jefferson Davis, it is asserted that the Attorney General of Virginia will demand that the case be tried, although Mr. Evarts has issued no instructions on the subject; but there are reasons for stating that the trial will again be postponed.

Enos Hopkins, of Nashville, charged with unlawful conduct as Commissioner of Registration, who was arrested on Tuesday, appeared before Justice Thurnock Wednesday, and waiving a preliminary trial, gave bond in $1000. The citizens, both Democrats and Republicans, were much exasperated at the frauds which they charge against Alden, and his supporters, and have organized committees of inquiry in all the wards to collect facts.

In Richland county, Wis., Mrs. Anna Wallace was killed, a few days ago, by a boy only fifteen years of age, for the sake of getting twenty-five dollars. Her head was cut off with an ax. The body was found the day after, horribly mangled by hogs. The boy was arrested and placed in jail. On Saturday he was taken out by a mob and hung, amid great excitement, every indignity being heaped upon his body.

From the Cincinnati Commercial we learn that Mr. Geo. D. Prentice, who has for nigh a century been the head and front of the press of Kentucky, has been discharged from the editorship of the Louisville Journal. It is said he was dissipated. Be that as it may, as the founder of the paper he was worthy a pension of as much as was necessary to his comfortable support as long as he lived. The old Nestor has our sympathy.

Another terrible casualty occurred near the Pilcher tunnel, not far from Athens, Ohio, on Monday morning. There was a dense fog, and an express train backing up from the tunnel came in collision with two hand-cars on which some laborers were going to the tunnel to work. Five of the men were almost instantly killed, and several others were badly hurt. On the previous day two men engaged in removing rubbish from the burning arch in the tunnel were suffocated by foul air.

A member of the Alabama delegation at Washington says the turbulence in that State and on the borders of Tennessee are attributable to the conduct and example of Brownlow and his myrmidons. We are not surprised to hear it. Brownlow and his crew are just the sort of examples the Radicals at the South would be likely to take for patterns. There is no turbulence in Alabama or any other Southern State except such as has been aroused in the negroes by carpet-baggers and scalawags.

The expose of financial matters by Director Delmar, in which he shows the public debt to be rapidly increasing, and the expenditures for the fiscal year ending 1869 will exceed the receipts more than 150 millions, has created a stir in the Treasury Department. It is untrue as reported that McCulloch repudiates the statement of Delmar, but says he did not authorize it. A prominent Radical in that Department will, at an early day, attempt to controvert Delmar's figures and facts.

It is thought the election of Alden in Nashville, will be contested. The negroes who favored Thornberg, Independent Republican, for Mayor, are especially energetic in the prosecution of the election frauds. It has been proved that a large proportion of those elected to the city council, Saturday, have no property and are therefore ineligible. Some of the Thornberg Republicans are withdrawing their names from the official bonds of the city and county officers heretofore elected.

Gov. Warmoth's veto of the Negro Equality Bill was sustained in the Louisiana House of Representatives on Monday. The vote was a tie—32 to 32. In the House yesterday, a bill was introduced, passed to a third reading, and referred to the Judiciary Committee, entitled "An act to enforce the provisions of the thirteenth article of the Constitution of Louisiana," which is almost identical with the Equality Bill just vetoed, except that it makes infractions thereof cause for civil action, and gives preference on the docket to suits brought under its provision.

At Nashville, on Tuesday, a personal difficulty occurred between Pat. Walsh, who is proprietor of a saloon on the corner of Cherry and Deadrick streets, and John Lawrence, correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette. Walsh charges Lawrence with stating falsely in his dispatch to the Gazette last Saturday that a shot was fired at the Alden procession from the window of his storeroom, opposite the saloon. On Monday Walsh denounced him as a willful liar, and to-day further words occurred between them, bringing on blows, when Walsh kicked Lawrance several times, and then thrust his hand into his pocket, when Lawrence ran and Walsh fired after him, but without effect.

A Nashville dispatch of the 29th says: A number of persons have been arraigned for illegal voting in the municipal election last Saturday. All but one were committed for trial, not being able to give bonds in $500. Tuesday evening four or five of them were taken from jail upon a writ of habeas corpus issued by John Hugh Smith, Judge of the Criminal Court, and admitted to bail in $500 each, J. N. Phillips, of Gallatin militia notoriety, going on all their bonds except one. Phillips has no property. The remaining one gave his own bond. One of the accused swore he owned a house worth three or four hundred dollars which stands on a rented lot.

The Secretary of War, Seward and Baron Stoeckl, Russian Minister to this Government, recently had several interviews regarding a treaty settling the question of the rights of American whalers in the waters near the Aleutian Islands. This was passed upon satisfactorily. They also had under consideration a convention for trade marks. At the time Stoeckl officially presented to the Government a proposition of the Czar to the great powers of the world for the suppression, by common consent, in time of war, of torpedoes and other engines of the sort. The proposition, it is understood, was accepted in a general way by Mr. Seward, as it has been by all great powers of Europe.

The Jewish Messenger says that at the auction sale of pews in the new Temple Emanuel, in New York, the amount received reached about $750,000. The trustees expected a premption of $80,000, but it amounted to $200,000. The highest price paid was $4600; the purchaser selected the pew directly in front of the pulpit. The other members paid various sums ranging from $4000 to $4500. The appraised value of the pews was $80,000, there being twenty at $6000 each. Many of the seats were sold at a comparatively low price, the trustees very properly declining to neglect the claims of poorer members. The low priced pews were sold for 200, accommodating seven occupants each. By this sale the Temple stands free from debt, and with a sinking fund of one hundred thousand dollars.

At Pittsburg, on the 29th ult., a terrific explosion of a locomotive occurred, on the Connelsville railroad, near Everson & Preston's mill, by which one man named George Gilmore, a fireman, was killed, and thirteen others were severely injured. The locomotive was attached to a train of empty coaches, and was about proceeding from a siding when the engine jumped the track, and steam was turned off for the purpose of putting it on, when the steam was again let on and the explosion occurred, the engine being literally blown to pieces, parts of it scattering in every direction. The tank coupling was wrenched, and the concussion forced back the tank as well as the entire train for a distance of nearly thirty feet. Part of the engine was forced in the opposite direction and jammed against the rocks on the upper side of the road. Mr Gilmore, who was on the pilot of the engine, was blown nearly thirty feet distant, and suffered terrible injuries. The engineer, Mr. Kehoe, was stooping down at the time and escaped injury. George O'Donnell, of the dredge boat Monongahela Navigation Company, was badly hurt, but will survive. Wm. Hutchinson, brakesman, and Thos. McGovern, flagman, were slightly injured.

Judge Blatchford, Judge of the Southern District of New York, has lately rendered a most important decision in the case of Scoof vs. Black & Secor. It is that a person being insolvent, or about to become insolvent, cannot suffer judgment to be taken against him, and execution to be levied upon his property. If this should be done it will be regarded as a fraud upon the bankrupt law, and will, upon application to the bankrupt court, be set aside. Such judgment creditor will be excluded from participation in the assets of the bankrupt. He defines insolvency to be the inability of a debtor to meet his obligations as they fall due.

The next State election takes place in Nebraska on the first Tuesday of October. The contest will be for one Congressman, Governor of the State, State officers, and members of the Legislature. The Radicals elected their Governor in 1866 by 145 majority. In the ensuing Congressional election they succeeded by a majority of 745.

TOTAL DEPRAVITY OF RADICAL POLITICIANS.

To those who do not intimately participate in politics, it is incomprehensible that men can be guilty of the corruption and fraud charged against the Radical party. Of this class many, on reading accounts of murders and outrages, such as BARBOUR LEWIS projected against the Democracy of Memphis a few weeks ago, shake their heads, and with a dubious air express themselves unbelievers in the "total depravity," the deliberate fiendishness, which in so many instances characterizes Radicalism. They cannot fathom the depths of degradation to which such creatures have fallen, and are unable to realize the existence of a condition of things never before dreamed of by them as possible. That men of education and pretending to any degree of religious training and refinement should give countenance, nay should deliberately plan murder, arson, outrage and election frauds for the sake of perpetuating a political system, is almost beyond belief. That such persons should plot against the peace and security of large communities in order to manufacture political capital, is certainly to be received with amazement and wonder. And, yet devilish as it is, mischievous as it is, it is placed far beyond doubt by the proof every day furnished by the press of the country.

BARBOUR LEWIS, who at least pretends to respectability, by the confession of an organ of his party—the Bulletin—deliberately planned the sack of Memphis, the murder of its men, and the violation of its women and children.

ALDEN, of Nashville, of the same "section" as BARBOUR, invites negroes from the country, muddles them with liquor, and then excites them to insult, murder, and the robbery of many stores on their line of march through our State capital.

The Evening Post, edited here by men who have been degraded as thieves by Col. BEAUMONT, also a Radical, encourages the colored people in these outrages and urges them always to go armed. So does the Republican, of Nashville, a journal edited in the same interest as the Post.

But worst of all, the Governor of the State, a preacher of the Gospel of the blessed CHRIST, coolly and deliberately, at his home in the mountains of East Tennessee, "with none to disturb or make him afraid," plans a campaign of arson, murder and outrage, by a militia to be composed of men whom he characterized in his debate with PRYNE, as of that "indolence that benumbs their feeble intellect," and, growing out of that "the willing slave of the Devil, to do his will upon a scale of savage barbarity, revolting to the finer feelings of the soul."

It is horrible to contemplate that a free people should be cursed with such incendiaries, and, too, in places of trust and public prominence. But so it is, and is likely to be, unless we labor in and out of season, with all the powers we possess, to put these Radicals under our feet. We must not imitate the late unfortunate example of the people of Nashville, and, from disgust or apathy, fail to participate in elections. We must be up and doing; never giving up, never growing weary, nor morose; nor grumble in supineness. If our readers will but reflect a moment, it will be apparent to them, as it is to us, that the devilry of which we complain is but the natural exasperation of bad men, who know that their lease of power is about to expire. By a united effort, a harmonious effort, ignoring all issues that are not pertinent to the campaign, we can realize for them the defeat these Radicals fear and are trying to ward off by such nefarious plans and plots. We must organize to prevent outrages at the polls; we must organize to prevent unlawful conduct by the Commissioner of Registration; we must organize to prevent a repetition of the shameleseness that won for the carpet-baggers the triumphant election of ALDEN as Mayor of Nashville. We must anticipate trickery and chicanery; we must anticipate bribery and corruption; we must anticipate lying and malicious interference with the rights of voters of whatever shade or color. We must be convinced, and act upon the conviction of the "total depravity" of our Radical opponents.

THE SPANISH REVOLUTION.

The latest advices from Spain are of the most startling character; the people and soldiery of Madrid were fraternizing, as in the "days of July," and those of '48, in Paris; and the royal arms have been torn from all the public buildings. The wretched Queen is a fugitive at Bayonne, there awaiting the interference of France, and the hope of the overthrow of her so far successfully rebellious subjects by the aid of French bayonets. This is hardly among the possibilities. NAPOLEON is no friend to the legitimists, nor the Bourbons, and his wife has not forgotten the "snubbing" to which she was subjected by Queen ISABELLA who, Bourbon-like, cannot forgive EUGENE for having once been her subject. NAPOLEON may overcome his own prejudices, but it will be hard for him to overcome those of his wife; and, as in all well-regulated households, the women rule, we may be sure EUGENIE will vent her feminine spleen and enjoy the exile and confusion of her late Queen.

Seriously, we hope the Spanish leaders will continue in the course they have so far pursued, free their country of the Bourbons, root and branch, and establish such a government as will give free scope to the intelligence and vigor of the young men of the kingdom, a majority of whom long for the liberty, regulated by laws which has made England the first in material progress of all the European powers. We ought to hear, in a day or two, that the revolution is over and that the provisional government has composed the people and brought order out of chaos.

THE WOMEN OF THE SOUTH.

The noble self-devotion of the women of the South, during the war—in hospitals, in prisons, in the camp and on the battle field—is among the proudest records of a great people. These qualities, instead of exciting the admiration and respect of the Radicals, has, time and again, been made the occasion for sneers and taunts, and ruffianly and libidinous suggestions, by editors of that persuasion. The Bulletin, of this city, was, we believe, the first journal at the South to set an example of this brutal sort of attack. During the war the infamous suggestion was made by it that the wives and mothers of the South should throw themselves into the arms of the "boys in blue," and there forget the husbands who were in the field contending for all they held sacred. In our paper of yesterday we published from the Raleigh, (N. C.) Standard of the 24th inst., an editorial of so infamously suggestive a nature, that it excited the people of that old and honored city to a height of indignation, during which it was with difficulty they could be restrained from inflicting upon the writer the measure of punishment his indecent outrage upon that community deserved.

But they, as have the people of Memphis, forbore to dispose of the scoundrel as he should have been; thus emphasizing that character for law and order, and endurance, which has excited the respect of all good men of every nation, and which is our only safeguard against civil commotion under the severest provocation.

PUT THIS AND THAT TOGETHER.

In preparation for the meeting of Congress, the riots at Camilla, New Orleans and Nashville, were ordered. Of that at New Orleans the first intimation we had of the intended fracas was from the riot-manufacturing Bureau in this order:

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 12, 1868.

Commanding General of the Department of Louisiana, New Orleans:

Brevet Maj.-Gen. Hatch, Assistant Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau, reports that there is danger of an assault upon a torchlight procession in New Orleans to-night. You will so dispose and employ the troops under your command as to prevent such assault and preserve the peace. Please acknowledge a receipt of this dispatch.

By command of Gen. Grant.

J. C. KELTON, Assistant Adjutant-General.

Now, mark how the officer on the spot, a blunt old "regular" who evidently does not understand the game, spoils it:

HEADQUARTERS, DEPARTMENT OF LA., NEW ORLEANS, Sep. 12, 1868.

Brevet Brig.-Gen. J. C. Kelton, Assistant Adjutant-General United States Army, Washington, D. C.:

Dispatch received. There is no danger, in my opinion, of any assault on the procession to-night. The danger is that the negroes will commence a riot, and the public property may possibly be destroyed. I have made arrangements to protect it, and shall use all my disposable troops for the purpose. Am I to interfere any further than this? The Governor has not asked for assistance. ROBT. C. BUCHANAN, Bvt. Maj.-Gen. Commanding.

After this, of course there was no riot, and on the 14th the General so reported:

Adjutant-General United States Army, Washington:

As I expected, everything passed off quietly in the Republican procession on Saturday night last. ROBERT C. BUCHANAN, Maj.-Gen. Commanding.

WHICH IS RIGHT?

Mr. ROBERT T. LINCOLN, son of the "martyred," publishes a letter in Forney's Press, in which he says, "no one more earnestly desires the success of Gen. GRANT and the Republican party, than myself." His mother endorses this speech of BOB, and the subject of it in this way: Speaking to the "late lamented" she said, "he is a butcher, and is not fit to be at the head of an army." Lincoln said he had been successful in the field. Mrs. L.—"Yes, he manages to claim a victory, but such a victory! He loses two men to the enemy's one. He has no management; no regard for life. If the war continues four years longer, and he should remain in power, he would depopulate the North. I could fight an army as well myself. According to his tactics, there is nothing under the heavens to do but to march a new line of men up in front of the rebel breastworks, to be shot down as fast as they take their positions, and keep marching until the enemy grows tired of the slaughter. Grant, I repeat, is an obstinate fool and a butcher."

RADICAL RIOTERS.

The examination of the negro insurgents at Bossier Point, La., resulted in the commitment of twenty of them. Twenty-one were released on their own recognizance, and eight discharged, besides fourteen turned loose before examination. The Bossier Banner says:

"The evidence seems to establish that "the negroes had resolved on taking the "lives of the citizens and appropriating "their property; but it is equally apparent, from the testimony, that base "white men, as their teachers and instigators, are more guilty than their poor, "ignorant dupes. It is in proof that they "expected to get arms from Gen. Flood, "of Shreveport, and Gen. Isaac Williams, the negro ringleader, had gone "to Shreveport to get arms from him. "It is evident that the leaders expected "at least a thousand armed blacks to be "present the day they were captured."

Will the Cincinnati Commercial and New York Tribune publish this fact? We can supply a hundred such, the results of the infamous politico-military organizations fostered by the Radical party.

AFTER THE RADICAL SLAVE-DEALERS.

Col. JOHN FORSYTH, of the Mobile Register, is still after GRIFFIN, the editor of the Nationalist (Radical organ) about the sale in Cuba of the one hundred and fifty negroes kidnapped by HARRINGTON, Radical Speaker of the Senate of Alabama, from Mobile in 1866. The Colonel says he has lodged the proper information with the United States authorities and that every assurance has been given him that the guilty wretches will be prosecuted, and upon conviction punished. As kidnapping and slave-dealing has been declared piracy by the leading powers, the United States included, we may yet have to chronicle the death, at the yard arm, of these Radical "man-stealers."

RADICALISM DEFINED.

Radicalism is thus defined by its followers: Outrage of virtue, blackguardism, theft, robbery, indecent suggestions of and to virtue, infamy in legislation, incendiarism, stirring up of strife, insurrection, assassination, Loyal Leagues, secret lodges, voudooism; and generally, villainy of every conceivable nature and character.

THE Editor of the Tuscaloosa Monitor has, in the exercise of his freedom as an Editor, stabbed the South and inflicted an irreparable damage on the Northern Democracy, by an indiscretion of speech and illustration, now finding extensive circulation through the Radicals at the North. When will our hot heads learn the value of silence.

NASHVILLE.

NASHVILLE, October 1.—The City Council elected last Saturday, together with Mayor Alden, were sworn into office to-day. Col. Thornberg and the candidates for the City Council who ran on his ticket, entered a protest and announced their intention to test the validity of the election.

An indignation meeting of the citizens was held on the Public Square to-night. They denounced the election as a fraud.

GEORGIA.

ATLANTA, October 1.—In the House, to-day, the bill to compel common carriers to provide equal accommodations for whites and blacks was lost. The act to prescribe the oath to be administered to voters for Electors for President of the United States, Governor, and other officers of this State, was passed.

Mr. Bryant (Radical,) is charged with holding office under the United States, and therefore disqualified from holding his seat in the House, and a resolution was passed appointing a committee of five to investigate the matter.

NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, October 1.—The new board of Police Commissioners under the Metropolitan Police bill, which is composed of two negroes and three whites, have commenced their duties. One Lieutenant and a number of the oldest members of the force have resigned.

In the House, yesterday, two more whites—members from the parish of Baton Rouge—were unseated, and replaced by two negroes. The majority report of the Election Committee in this case states that the white men whose seats were contested were elected by 758 majority, and the charges upon which their seats were contested were disapproved, and recommended that their election be confirmed, but the minority report, signed by two negroes, which unseated the whites, was adopted by 37 to 17.

The State Democratic Convention convened yesterday and organized with a full attendance. To day resolutions were adopted declaring that the white people of Louisiana protest against all test oaths and disqualifications, except for crimes, whereof the party has been fully convicted. They also recognize the necessity of conforming to the existing laws, and say that this convention will entertain the name of no person as a candidate for Elector who cannot qualify under these laws. They also recommend that the Congressional Conventions adopt the same rule. Five members of the Electoral ticket, who were ineligible, have resigned, and a portion of the vacancies have been filled with persons who are eligible.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, October 1.—The United States bonded warehouse, known as the Empire stores, in Brooklyn, was burned yesterday. The loss is estimated at one million and a half dollars.

In the series of races between Lady Thorne and Mountain Boy, which commenced last year, Lady Thorne has come out winner six times and Mountain Boy four.

The contest at the French game of three thousand points up, played between Melvin Foster and John Deery, last night at Irving Hall, resulted in favor of the former by one hundred and sixteen points. The winner's average was about two hundred and twenty-five. Time, two hours and a half.

The lottery cases came up before Commissioner Osborn yesterday. It was shown that the policy business as carried on by the defendants was entirely distinct from lotteries, with which they had nothing to do. A motion for the dismissal of the cases on the rendering of the evidence was denied, and the defendants were held for trial. These examinations are preliminary to the MANN cases, which come up on Saturday before Judge Blackford.

While a Republican procession was passing through Jersey City last night, one of the clubs was attacked and assaulted with stones. Two horses were cut with knives, one of which was killed. A man named Mornet was severely injured.

Felix Samuels, a lawyer of Detroit, committed suicide in Jersey City on Tuesday night. The deceased was married but three weeks ago.

Van Wyck and Sanders, of the Retrenchment Committee, met to-day at the Astor House to examine into the alleged frauds in the Revenue Department, but adjourned until to-morrow, when Representatives Hoisey, Benton and Randall will be present.

In the session of the Catholic Synod yesterday, the debate on the decrees of the Baltimore Council was continued, and on one of them, setting forth the immorality which proceeds from picnics and dances, it was resolved that there shall be no more picnics or waltzing among the Catholics of this Diocese.

The commissioners of the elevated railway have set aside the action of the Common Council in reference to it, by approving of the works now in progress on Courtland street; as, according to the law creating the company, the Common Council cannot interfere with the construction of the road after the works have been approved by the commissioners.

Gen. McClellan kept himself very secluded yesterday. In the evening he was entertained by Auguste Belmont. This afternoon the Common Council resolution will be presented to him, and to-morrow a public reception at the Fifth Avenue Hotel will be tendered him, under the auspices of the McClellan Legion.

The officers and members of the Irish Emigration society, with several representatives of the German Emigration Society, made their annual visit of inspection to Ward's Island yesterday, and reported themselves well satisfied with the management of affairs there.

Mr. Worrell having sued out an injunction against Mr. J. T. Floyd, restraining him from the further use of the New York theater for the production of the piece called "Foul Play," on the ground that it was no longer mutually profitable, the Judge decided the mutually profitable was a very uncertain term to make use of in a contract, and declared the injunction dissolved.

At the interview of the Brookly Committee to tender a reception to Gen. McClellan to-day, he stated that he did not propose to engage actively in the pending political cavass.

Gen. McClelland to day declined the invitation of the city government of Brooklyn to visit that city at present.

In the Internal Revenue conspiracy case, to-day, Collector Wood, Postmaster Lincoln, Senator Pierson, of Brooklyn, and several others, gave testimony which was damaging to the character of McHenry, one of the prosecuting witnesses, and Mr. Loeb testified that he never walked on the street with Mr. Rollins in Washington, nor did he ever pay him any money as was testified to by McHenry.

The case of Benjamin Butler against the surrogate of this city, involving the will of the Butler brothers, was up to-day, and decision reserved.

PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, October 1.—The city is crowded with strangers and the hotels are filled to overflowing. There is a liberal display of bunting on Chestnut and Maury streets, and the private dwellings throughout the city are being decorated. The front of Independence Hall has a device in gas jets forming an eagle, with thirteen stars and "E pluribus unum." The gate on Walnut street has the motto, "Freedom to all," in gas jets. Gas pipes run the entire length of the avenue on either side, furnishing lights to appropriate mottoes. The streets are lively with arriving delegations.

John DeVine was arrested by the police last night, at a Republican meeting, for snapping his pistol in the streets. On his person were found twelve certificates of naturalization, signed by Prothon, an attorney at Snowden, with the seal of the court on them, but a blank left for the names. He was committed. Jas. H. Watson, who was voucher on nearly a hundred naturalization papers, has been arrested.

Six men were arrested, to-day, for attempting to get assessed in wards where they did not live, with the intention of duplicating their votes. The excitement in relation to naturalization is increasing. From an examination of the records of the court it appears that some thousand papers have been issued, in which the residence of the persons vouching for the applications were in no instance taken down, so that the records of the court are useless in an attempt to prosecute the vouchers for perjury and fraud.

CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, October 1.—Jacob Flynn, an old citizen and for a long time Judge of the Criminal Court in this city, died yesterday.

Theodore Jones, the artist, also died yesterday.

PENNSYLVANIA.

SCRANTON, October 1.—Hon. Fernando Wood, who yesterday spoke at Waverly, Pa., and Senator Cragin, both put up at the Wyoming House here last night, where Senator Cragin was serenaded by the tanners, and spoke at some length, spiritedly defending New England from an attack made by Mr. Wood here on Tuesday night last, when he is alleged to have said that "the two greatest curses God has visited on earth were the fall of Adam and the landing of the Pilgrim fathers at Plymouth Rock." The Democrats subsequently serenaded Mr. Wood, who made an elaborate rejoinder to Senator Cragin's remarks. Both speakers were frequently interrupted, and considerable excitement was created.

ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, October 1.—The first race over the Laclede course to-day was for the Brewers' purse, a dash of two miles, free for all ages, of $400 to the first horse and $200 to the second. Gilroy won the race easily—Chickamauga being second, Nancy Letcher third, R. E. Lee fourth, Jim Walker fifth; time, 3:42½. The second race was for the Post stake, free for all, entrance fee $100—the Association adding $2000. This was won by Plantagenet in straight heats, beating Ruth and Wolford and distancing Larkin in the first heat; time, 5:47½, 5:45½. The track was heavy to-day, and the attendance large.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, October 1.—Madrid is quiet. The Provisional Junta was organized with Madonna as President. No measures as yet have been taken looking to the future of the country, beyond denouncing the plan for a Republic, nor will there be until Gens. Prim and Serrano arrive.

The battle between Paris and Serrano occurred at Alicalta, near Cordova. It was very short, and there were but few losses.

The success of the revolutionary movement in Spain, ending as it has in the expulsion of Queen Isabella, gives rise to much speculation as to her probable successor to the Spanish throne. It is generally believed that the known dislike to Napoleon and the Orleans family is fatal to the hopes of the Montpensiers, and that a Carlist will be chosen to rule over Spain is regarded as impossible. The ancient rights of the house of Savoy to the throne of Spain are beginning to be discussed and the Duke of Aosta, the second son of King Victor Emanuel is talked of as the available candidate.

PARIS, October 1.—Rio Janeiro dates just received announce that the newly installed President, Sarmiento, has proposed negotiations for peace between Brazil and Paraguay.

HAMBURG, October 1.—The brig Germania, of the North Pole expedition has arrived at Bergen, Norway. No results of the voyage have yet been announced.

La France to-day discusses the prospects of Spain, and predicts that the present revolution there will be followed by a violent civil war. Le Moniteur says than when the Queen of Spain and the members of the royal family who were with her crossed the Spanish frontier, they proceeded immediately to Biarritz.

Reduction

RATES OF TELEGRAPHING!

[CARD.]

TO THE CITIZENS OF MEMPHIS:

It is with pleasure that the Southern Pacific and Atlantic Telegraph Company announce that the office in the city of Memphis will be opened at No. Eighteen (18) Madison Street in a few days, for the reception and dispatch of telegraphic messages.

When the office is opened, the citizens of Memphis will enjoy the same reductions in the cost of telegraphing which have, at all times, followed upon the extension of the wires of this Company to other cities.

The rates will be announced upon the opening of the office, and the reduction will be in the same proportion to rates heretofore prevailing as those which have been made at other points.

The people of Memphis should not fail to bear in mind that reductions in the charge for telegraphing are, and always have been, the result of the building and completion of a competing telegraph line, and that in the patronage extended to such a company lies its ability to continue to, and increase for the public, the benefits arising from low charges for telegraphs.

The Southern Pacific and Atlantic Telegraph Company would therefore respectfully solicit from the people of Memphis the same generous patronage which has been at all other points extended to it, and secured to the citizens of other cities, a permanent cheap rate for telegraphing, beside resulting from competition greater correctness and rapidity in the transmission of messages.

CITY MATTERS.

MR. FELIX CROSS, of the Southern Express Company, has our thanks for late favors.

THE weather has been glorious for the past few days. The most inveterate planter---grumbler, we mean---could not wish for better.

WE ARE most happy to inform our readers that the office of the Southern Pacific and Atlantic Telegraph line will be opened in this city in a very few days, at No 18, Madison street.

THE COMMERCIAL HOTEL continues to increase in popularity. The tables are bountifully spread with the best the market affords, and, as a natural consequence, it is doing a thriving business.

ROYSTER, TREZEVANT & CO., will sell, this day at 12 o'clock, on the premises, the valuable business property formerly occupied by the Gayoso Savings Bank. This is, by far, the most important sale of real estate of the season, and capitalists will do well to be on hand.

PERSONAL.---We had the pleasure of a visit, yesterday, from Joseph H. Sloss, Esq., of that sterling paper, the Tuscumbia (Ala.) North Alabamian. Mr. Sloss is spending a few days in the city, on business.

VICTOR D. FUCHS has received a fine lot of fresh fish and game. His store on Jefferson street is always the repository of everything good in that line, and lovers of the delicacies can be sure of being suited by giving him a call.

CHEAP FREIGHT.---On and after October 1st, 1868, rates from New York to Memphis, via Star Union Line, will be $1 27. (All rail)

JULIUS DOUGLAS, a "colored cuss from Africa," pulled the wool over the eyes of Benjamin Franklin yesterday, and diddled him out of several dollars of hard earned greenbacks. Benjamin had Julius arrested and carried before Squire Millard, who will hear the case to-day.

SOME MONSTER not deserving the name of human, out of personal malice, broke a leg of the fine mare usually rode by detective McCune, on Wednesday night. She was found with it terribly shattered standing in her stall yesterday morning. McCune had to shoot her yesterday, to put her out of her misery.

THE NICHOLSON PAVEMENT on Poplar street, between Main and Front streets, south side of the Overton, is being laid, and will be finished to-day. South Court street was commenced yesterday and will be finished in a few days---a fact which causes considerable jubilation by the inhabitants of the houses on that street.

WHO WILL HELP?---A few days ago some infamous wretch, whom, it were base slavery to call a scoundrel, stole the cow belonging to the poor mother-less and father-less children in St. Peters' Orphan Asylum. They must have another. Who will help towards getting it for them? Three cents from each Catholic in the city will buy the finest cow in the county. Father Kelly will receive donations at St. Peters'.

ATTENTION 124TH SR. REGIMENT RELIEF SOCIETY.---A meeting for the permanent election of officers of this Association will be held at the Hibera lan Hall, this Friday, at 7½ p.m.

A full attendance of members is desired.

M. MAGEVENEY, Jr., President.
J. M. WOOD, Secretary.

THE Central Park picnic, though not exactly what it ought to have been in point of numbers, stimulates its enterprising proprietors, Messrs. McClure & O'Connor, to other exertions to amuse and entertain the Memphis public. We understand that these gentlemen contemplate having a grand balloon ascension in a few weeks, and also to get up a ladies' tournament. Of these projects we will keep our readers posted. Messrs. McClure & O'Connor return thanks to the Memphis and Charleston road for the courtesies extended them and their guests on Wednesday.

The Nashville Banner, of Wednesday last, says: "The papers sent from Washington to Mr. East, attorney for the Government, in regard to the indebtedness of the State on account of the Memphis, Clarksville and Louisville railroad, were forwarded to Gov. Brownlow, at Knoxville, yesterday. The State is responsible to the Government for the debt created in the purchase of rolling stock for that road, and will have to cancel it. The road having taken the bankrupt act, the State will receive only its pro rata with the other creditors."

BURIED ALIVE.---An Italian, living on Jefferson street, above Fourth, next the marble yard, was the source of a good deal of amusement to wonder seekers yesterday and the day before. He has been suffering for some time with the rheumatism, and having been told by some one that if he buried his whole body in the earth for twenty-four hours, every particle of the pains would leave him, he determined to try the novel remedy. He accordingly caused a hole to be dug in his back yard deep enough for him to stand upright in and leave his shoulders and arms outside, and at eight o'clock on Wednesday evening stepped into it, and had the earth filled in and packed tightly around him. As we stated, he was visited by a great many curiosity seers, who went away impressed with the novelty and uncomfortableness of the remedy, if nothing else. He was taken out yesterday evening, with what result, however, so far as a cure is concerned, we are unable to say.

DONE FOR.---A sharp darky yesterday morning went to a countryman who was vending eggs and butter from his wagon, and, after purchasing a lot of both commodities, informed the trader that he would take the lot if he would accompany him to La Salette Academy, where he represented that he was a sort of steward. The countryman gladly assented, and went with him, and at the gate of the Academy the darky took the buckets of butter and eggs and entered, telling Country to wait for him and he would bring him out the money. When our informant passed there a couple of hours later, Country was still waiting, but the darky had not come back, and the probability is he never will, having gone through the back way and made tracks for parts unknown, with the countryman's plunder. Sharp nigger that---Gen. Smith ought to take him into partnership.

HORRIBLE BRUTALITY.

A Negro Husband Beats his Wife Nearly to Death.

"The Man and Brother."

We saw at the Causey street station, on Wednesday evening, a negro woman who was one of the most pitiable sights that we have seen for a long time. Her head was cut in three places, in two of which the scull could be seen, and in the third the skull itself had evidently been driven in. Her teeth were set firmly and the poor creature could hardly articulate a word. She had dragged herself to the station to lodge a complaint against the brute that had so cruelly treated her, and managed to make the police understand his name---George Reynolds, a negro engaged in a rag-pickery on Brown's avenue. The police succeeded that evening in arresting him, but yesterday evening the woman, who gave her name as Mollie Everett, was not able to appear against him. Some friend of hers, however, went to 'Squire Black and swore out a warrant for him, and he was held over for trial before the 'Squire. Meanwhile the 'Squire was sent for to take the woman's deposition, she having become so much worse that it was thought she could not survive until the morning. The 'Squire informs us that Reynolds and the woman had been living together as man and wife, and she having done something to enrage him, he took a boot-jack and literally brained her. It is not thought possible for her to survive. Reynolds was moved to the county jail yesterday evening.

MURDER MOST FOUL!

An Unknown Wayfarer Foully Assassinated!

Mysterious Crime.

Passengers by the 8:30 accommodation train from Sardis, were horrified yesterday morning, when within three miles of the city, at seeing what appeared to be the bloody corpse of a man. The train was stopped, and the officers and passengers, from one of whom we learn the following, approached the object and found it was indeed the body of a white man, dead, and with the blood still oozing from two wounds---one in the left eye and the other in the right breast. A physician who was on the train examined the corpse, and finding it still warm, gave it as his opinion that life had not been extinct more than an hour. The only persons in sight when the train stopped, were some negroes working in a cotton field about three hundred yards distant, who, seeing the train stop, were attracted to the spot. They all, of course, denied knowing anything about the matter. The murdered man was apparently about twenty-five years old, well dressed, but bore nothing on his person by which he could be identified or his name could be learned. The officers of the train left a man to watch the corpse, and came into the city and notified the Coroner, who went out immediately to hold an inquest. He was unable to impannel a jury when he first went out, and returning to the city he went out a second time.

In the afternoon, about five o'clock, a negro brought the body into the city in a cart, and it was buried---we understand without an inquest being held. During the evening officer Wand arrested a negro named William Henry, and lodged him in the Second District station house, on suspicion of being connected with the murder. He will be examined this morning.

REMARKABLE CASE.

We were invited yesterday by a friend, to call with him and satisfy ourselves by actual inspection, of a most remarkable case of almost total blindness, recently effected by Dr. Norris, of our city. The patient was Miss Sallie Browne, a young lady of about nineteen years of age and extremely pleasant and prepossessing appearance. About two years ago she took a violent cold, which settled in her eyes and made them terribly sore. She was treated by several regular practitioners, and under their treatment she grew rapidly worse. About six months ago the cornea of the left eye had become eaten through and evacuated the aqueous humor. The cornea of the other had become opaque and the pupil closed. Some weeks ago, despairing of ever receiving any benefit from the faculty and almost giving up in despair all hopes of seeing again, she called in Dr. Norris, whom she had heard of as extraordinarily successful in all diseases of the eye. On examining the eye, which still contained the aqueous humor, Dr. Norris was satisfied, although the cornea was opaque and the eye otherwise terribly injured, that he could restore it, if not completely, at least partially. He obtained her consent to undergo an operation which has seldom been performed in this country---never, we believe, outside of New York, although frequently done by Von Grosf, the great oculist of Berlin. It is called iridectomy, or the process of cutting off a portion of the iris in order to form an artificial pupil. Placing the patient under chloroform, Dr. Norris performed the operation in about four minutes and a-half, successfully. Prior to this time she had been for months so blind that she could not tell day from night, but within three days she was able to distinguish persons, to find her way about, and yesterday (some ten days after the operation), she could see to read large print. With the aid of glasses, Miss Brown will be able to read any print, and the eye has a healthy, lively appearance. Too much credit cannot be given Dr. Norris for the skill and nerve which he displayed in this operation, and as there are a sad many unfortunates throughout our region and country that are suffering in the same manner as Miss Brown, and who have not the means to go to New York or Berlin, we feel we are of humanity a service in doing the cause known, by making the case known.

LAW COURT---H. S. Lee, Judge.---In Chambers, on yesterday, a habeas corpus was heard in the case of Isaac Altounie vs. A. P. Curry, Sheriff, and was continued over to to-day at ten o'clock a.m. The principal point in this new phase of the case was the informality of the appearance bond taken a few days since. The case comes up again upon the return of the Sheriff, and a demurrer thereto, and will be fully argued to-day, and it is probable the merits of the whole case will be investigated. The prisoner was admitted to bail, to appear to-day, in the sum of $2000.

MORE SHOOTING.

The War Waged in Africa.

An altercation occurred last evening, about 4 o'clock, in Chelsea, between two negroes named Jeff. Logan and Robert Pleasants, about some woman whom both were visiting. Words and blows were freely interchanged, when Pleasants finding that he was getting the worst of the combat, drew a pistol and shot Logan. The ball struck him in the body, and made what is said to be a mortal wound. Pleasants, after doing the shooting, incontinently fled, and up to the latest account had not been arrested.

RAILROADS.

The Route from Memphis to Selma.

CARROLTON, ALA., September 29, 1868.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

Gen. N. B. Forrest and Maj. Wm. J. Sykes arrived in this county on yesterday. Although they had no appointment at Pickensville, in this county, yet a large crowd assembled to hear them and to see Gen. Forrest, who is a great favorite with these people. Maj. Sykes made the opening speech. He dwelt at length upon the advantages of Memphis as a market for this region, showed it was the nearest point on the Mississippi river, and that it could and would command this trade as far South as Central Alabama. He next portrayed the evils which had resulted and would result from the people of the South relying too much upon one staple, and proved that a diversity in their pursuits would contribute greatly to their prosperity and wealth, and that when the railroad to Memphis was completed, they would find there a market, and a good one, for everything they could raise. Many other points were discussed by Maj. Sykes, but these were the main ones.

Gen. Forrest made a strong and powerful speech, replete with facts and figures. He showed how the road could be built in two years, and that it would pay a dividend of ten per cent. He told the people he had fought for this country, and he was now ready to work for it; that this railroad would do more to restore their lost prosperity than any other enterprise; that he wished to convert lands now value less into capital with which to enhance the value of the remainder, and also to give them a railroad which would eventually make them rich and prosperous. He spoke of this road as a grand connecting line between the South Atlantic and the Pacific. He gave many instances to prove that when this road was built lands now useless would be of great value on account of the change in the system of agriculture, which must and would take place.

The General and Maj. Sykes are to speak here to-day, and there will be a large crowd in attendance. Gen. Forrest is in fine health and looking remarkably well. Maj. Sykes appears to be in feeble health. It is said blood Gen. Forrest will return from this place to Memphis, but Maj. Sykes may go on to fill the remaining appointments. X.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Natoma came in with a fair trip from Pine Bluff. She resumes her old trade to-day, leaving at 5 p.m. to-day for Friar's Point and all way landings. The Natoma has been busy as a bee since Capt. Lee assumed command of her and the denizens along the river know will welcome this handsome packet back and be glad to learn that she will visit them semi-weekly, leaving here on Monday and Friday. Billy Fields, Sterling Whitehead and Black Lee are her clerks.

The splendid U. S. mail packet, Mayflower, Capt. Billy Ashford, leaves to-morrow for White river. She makes every way landing and connects with the train for Little Rock.

The Mary Forsyth, Capt. Alex. Zeigler, will be in port to-night, and leaves to-morrow evening for Cairo and St. Louis. She is a splendid passenger packet.

Messrs. Charley Sawyer and Bob Gibson have formed a partnership and will conduct a general steamboat and railroad agency business, at No. 278 Front street, up stairs. The new firm goes under the style of Sawyer & Gibson. Being both young and energetic, active and intelligent, they will meet with success.

J. B. Sharpe, of the steamboat agency of Levy & Sharpe, left last evening for Louisville to meet his own and the family of Capt. J. B. Davis, who are on their way home after spending the summer and fall in the prairies and lakes of Minnesota and the Blue Grass regions of Kentucky.

The Magenta also passed down for New Orleans. She did not have much freight, but had a good passenger trip. She added 35 through passengers here.

The St. Marys leaves New Orleans to-day for Louisville.

Cotton steadily on the levee at New Orleans has become a serious matter. Bales are cut open with impunity, and sacks filled and carried away.

The City of Alton has turned her New Orleans trip over to the Mollie Able, at St. Louis, and has up for a while. Cause---low freights and too much tonnage.

The fine U. S. mail steamer Julia, Capt. Lockhart with our friend Wm. M. Tompkins, jr., in the office, will pass down to-day for Vicksburg and the bends. We would be glad to see Tompkins permanently in the lower trade, as he is a popular officer.

Capt. Blake, with the Rubicon, will pass up to-day for Cairo and St. Louis. The Rubicon needs no praise with such officers in charge as Blake and Alf. Grissom. She is the only boat for St. Louis to-day.

The Golden Eagle has been purchased by Capt. A. E. Davis, at Cincinnati, for the Wheeling trade. Price, $20,000.

Capt. Claycomb, formerly of the Linnie Brown and Rose Hamilton, but who is now proprietor of a wharfboat at Pine Bluff, is in this city. He wants to return to the river and is looking for a boat.

The Importer will be in to leave for all points on the Arkansas on Saturday. The following dispatch was received from her last night:

CAIRO, October 1, 1868.

JNO. A. WILLIAMS.

Our merchants who talk about local packets taking through freight at low rates should read the following circular, issued a few days ago in Cincinnati:

WE WORK FOR CINCINNATI MERCHANTS!
THROUGH BOATS BRING TRADE!

Other cities are constantly bleeding Cincinnati by diverting her trade in establishing agencies here for their boats.

It is palpably false that freight reshipped several times, "mangled and torn," can reach its destination as soon, or in as good order, as when taken through on one boat. The

Is now loading for Arkansas river. Give us freight and we will bring you business.
R. S. YERKES, Master.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says: Under a new arrangement the Memphis Packet Company's boats and the Dean line packets will be run as if belonging to one and the same, with a common office at No. 4 Public Landing.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

FINANCE.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL, MEMPHIS, October 1, 1868.

The usual amount of animation in money matters which is always perceptible on the 1st of each month, was rather improved upon to-day. Almost every other man we met had his collection book in hand and reported favorably. At our banks a very large amount of checking and depositing characterized the day, and collections, so far as we could learn, were very good. Now that the new quarter is being entered into, and the quarterly statement, which will appear on Monday, are about made up, we may anticipate more ease in the market than we have enjoyed for a week or two back.

Exchange upon the East in the way of cotton bills are abundant—more so than the demand requires for mercantile purposes, and rates are tending downwards. Next week we think cotton exchange will be taken at ½ discount on all Eastern cities. At present ¾ discount is the ruling rate. Selling at ¾ premium.

Gold opened in New York to-day at 140¾, and closed at 140¾. We quote at 138@139 buying Selling at 140@141.

City Bonds are very quiet, 49c. the offering price from brokers, does not develop any round lots, though an occasional $500 or $100 warrant is sold at 49@49½c. Holders are firm at 50c.

County Warrants are firm. Buying at 54@55c as to amount. Selling at 57@60c. Small pieces are firm at our outside figures.

COTTON.

The Liverpool market was buoyant at the opening to-day. Uplands, 10¼d; Orleans, 10½d, and closed firmer but not quotably higher, with sales of 15,000 bales. Uplands afloat were quoted in the noon dispatches at 9¾d. This is an old dodge, and will hardly work as well as it did last year. The New York market opened with a moderate demand, and prices firm. Uplands, 20½c, and closed the same, though holders were asking an advance. Sales 1000 bales.

This has been another unaccountable day in our market. Buyers are very scarce, and the advance in the East on yesterday, as well as the tendency upwards quoted to-day had no effect on them. They would not advance their rates, but passed by what would, at any other time be considered a "good thing." We quote as follows: 5 bales Ordinary, 20c; 1 at 20½c; 25 at 20c; 6 Good Ordinary, 21½c; 1 at 21¾c; 4 at 21c; 14 at 21½c; 1 at 21c; 1 at 21c; 9 at 21c; 10 at 21¾c; 4 at 21¾c; 4 at 21½c; 5 Low Middling, 20½c; 60 at 20½c; 6 at 22c; 15 at 22c; 1 at 22c; 24 at 21c; 4 at 22c; 2 at 22c; 8 at 22c; 8 at 22c; 5 at 22½c; 12 Middling, 23c; 6 at 23c; 21 at 23½; 1 at 23½c; 25 at 23c; 4 at 22c; 2 at 23c; 10 at 23c; 1 at 23½c; 4 Strict Middling, 23¾; 9 at 24c.

N. Coronna and A. Radgeski, Esqs., returned home on Tuesday, from their Summer tour. They are both well known as successful cotton operators. Mr. R. has visited all the different parts of Europe since he has been absent, and returns home full of pleasant memories of the scenes gone by, as well as ready to resume his place in line for the campaign.

There is a project on foot in some of the counties of Georgia which, if it can be successfully set on foot in all the counties not only in Georgia, but all over the South, will effectually stop the game which speculators have been playing upon Southern planters since the war, especially last season, and which they are now trying to play again, by ruling down the price of cotton until they can get it all out of the hands of the planters, and then selling it to the manufacturers at enormous profits.

The scheme, as explained by an intelligent gentleman, is this: Let all the planters of a county have a common warehouse to store their cotton, and let this warehouse be under the control of several responsible and reliable gentlemen, selected by the planters of the county, whose duty it shall be to receive and receipt for the cotton, and see that it is properly stored and protected. Then, upon this aggregate amount of cotton stored, let these gentlemen borrow money at a reasonable rate of interest, and from it supply the immediate pecuniary necessities of the planter, at the same rate of interest upon which it was obtained by the keepers of the warehouse—each planter having the privilege to borrow money in proportion to the amount of cotton he has in store. If a planter is willing to take the market price for his cotton and desires to sell, let the warehouse buy it, if the market price is too low, and it then becomes the property of the other planters of the association, and becomes also a portion of the common stock upon which the money is borrowed to supply the demands of the planters.

By this means it is thought planters will be enabled to hold their cotton for good prices, and instead of their labor being the sport and plaything of speculators, it will rule and control them, if not shut them out of the market altogether; for if the entire cotton crops of counties can be thus collected in the hands of a few planters, they can sell directly to manufacturers and consumers of the raw material, and not a bale fall into the hands of speculators. The price will then be settled between the producer and consumer of cotton, and the planter can demand his price instead of being forced to take whatever is offered. When the question of price is settled between the producer and consumer, then, if the speculator wants to show his hand, and force the manufacturer to pay more for cotton than the planter asks, let him overbid the manufacturer, and he is then entitled to control the price, for the planter has fairly disposed of the right to do so.

We believe that some such scheme as we have crudely outlined will soon be adopted by planters. If is certain that, as things are now working, the planter will never be able to control the price of his cotton crop, which he surely has the right to do.

TRADE.

By a private dispatch received this evening we learn that a disagreement has just occurred among all the railroad lines running west from New York city, and that freight is now being taken regardless of fixed rates. Freights of all kinds come to Cincinnati and Louisville at lower rates than ever were heard of before. How long the fight will last we do not know, but hope it may never cease. Our merchants should take advantage of this war and get their stocks through as soon as possible.

The jobbing trade was active to-day but was not well divided. Several neighborhoods seemed to have turned out in force, but it is well known that each neighborhood deals almost exclusively with one or two merchants so that while one house may be actively engaged in filling orders its next door neighbor may be doing comparatively nothing. Meats retain all their firmness and are tending upwards. The cause assigned is low stocks in the upper markets, where it is feared the supply will not hold out until the new hog crop comes in. Feed of all kinds is getting to be very scarce. Corn does not arrive in sufficient quantities to supply the local demand for feeding purposes, let alone to supply the call from millers to convert it into meal.

APPLES—Green Apples are getting scarce. Good are selling at $3@4 per barrel.

LIME—Lape and Alabama, $1 50@2. Eureka, $2@2 25.

COTTON GINS.
Pratt's Southern Made Cotton Gin
THIS GIN is regarded by planters who have used it, as the best for sample, picking the seed clean and light draught. Planters cultivating bottom lands are requested to examine the Eureka Gin at Farrington & Howell's, 268 Front street. It will pay for itself in ginning fifty bales. A. N. Gunnison, manufacturer of the Steel Comb Gin before the war but now a planter, gives the following certificate:
"MEMPHIS, TENN., January 31, 1868.
"I take pleasure in recommending to planters cultivating Cotton on bottom lands of the Mississippi, Arkansas, White and St. Francis rivers, the Eureka Gin, made by Daniel Pratt, of Alabama. This Gin separates the hulls, bolls, etc., from the Seed Cotton, makes a good sample, and is superior to any other Gin for bottom lands. I have used one myself on a farm in Washington county, Miss., and it operates well and gives entire satisfaction in every respect. A. N. GUNNISON."
Orders for Gins, from 40 to 80 Saws and Gum Belting, at Factory Prices, addressed to the care of FARRINGTON & HOWELL, 268 Front street, Memphis, promptly filled. Frames and Gearing put up, and Gins repaired by a skilful Ginwright. G. W. TRUEHART, jy28 3taw2m Agent for Daniel Pratt.
